

Vocabulary

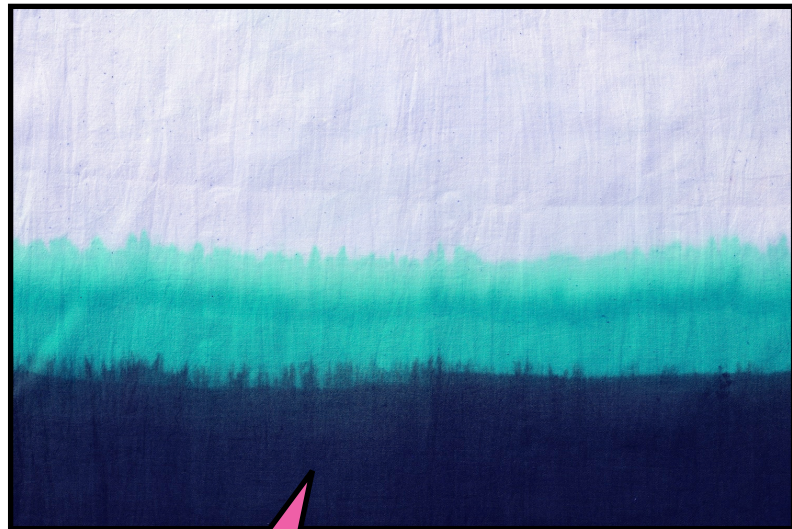

relief block	when you carve into a printing block and the lines/shapes do not carry the ink absorb	take in or soak up surface	the outside or top layer texture	the feel or appearance of a surface colour palette	the range or selection of colours chosen by the artist for a particular piece of artwork

a traditional Indian relief pattern

When we take a rubbing, we are left with a 'relief' surface which means our surface now has a raised texture.

We are going to make our own relief printing blocks using matchsticks on card!

an example of dip dye

Inking up is when we prepare the ink by rolling is up and down and left to right until it sounds like velcro. We then know it is ready to use.

